Newsletter

The start of M&H

With this first newsletter, we set another step with M&H. This new foundation started at the end of 2018 and aims to make the hobby of the miniature (figure) more known again. By miniatures we mean flat figures, model figures and toy soldiers. In all kinds of scales, shapes and materials. With stories about miniatures and what these miniatures portray, we will also inform people how history can be very well represented. We mainly focus on European cultural history. M&H also releases miniatures itself.

In the coming newsletters we will focus on our own releases, new miniatures of others and current topics concerning our hobby.

The first series

It concerns 4 flat figures. They represent famous painters: Rembrandt, Rubens, Monet and Picasso. These are 70 mm figures, one-sided engraved. Engravers were Rolf Grunenwald (Rembrandt) and Thomas Urbaniak (the other three). The figures are €12.50 each. Prices always without P&P. Ordering is very easy in the shop of our website.

Shows

With the Les Feles show last week, the show season has started. This and next month there are again shows for model builders (including Goes, the Netherlands 23 and 24 February) Collectors of 1/6 miniatures (Action Figurado, 9 March). Also the big toy soldier fair in Nanterre (March 17) should certainly be mentioned. For information and many more see our agenda.

Miniatures to come

If the engravers succeed, there will be this year another three or four M&H series. A next series will have famous women as subject. The first 54 mm 3D figures have also been released. They have the same topics as our flat figures. Next week a 3D miniature of Vincent van Gogh will appear. Do you have ideas for figures yourself? Pass them on to us and maybe you will see your idea in 2 or 3D!

Stories on our website

There are now several stories on our website in which miniatures play a certain role. This can be the background for a figure that we have released. There are also stories about the history of certain brands, makers, interviews etc. We will continue to expand this part of the site. A nice example of a short article with many pictures is about toy soldiers on propaganda postcards during the 1st World War. You can find that article here >>

An interesting miniature

Our partner who makes the 3D figures came with a nice 54mm figure set. It concerns Cortez and the captured Montezuma. Because these figures are not entirely within our objectives, we have not included them in our store. The price for both figures together comes to about 38 euros. On the photo the master. Please contact us if you are interested, we can order the set for you if you like.

The story of Elastolin

On our website are many, many weblinks. Stores, museums, blogs and many suppliers of various miniatures. Occasionally we describe another website on the site. Recently the website about plastic Elastolin miniatures was completely revised. This site is about the history of Hausser-Elastolin miniatures from the sixties until the eighties of the last century. For the toy soldier collector certainly worth a visit. Elastolin >>
